On October 28, 2023, PSG iTech conducted an Orientation Programme on Teaching-Learning Pedagogy, organized by the Centre for Teaching-Learning Practices. A total of 22 faculty members from Engineering departments, Science, and Humanities actively participated in the program. Dr. N. Saravanakumar, the Principal, extended a warm welcome to the attendees, emphasizing the significance of the orientation in enhancing Teaching-Learning pedagogy. Serving as the resource person for the program, Dr. P.V. Mohanram shared his experiential insights into the Teaching-Learning process through his career, employing various metaphors.

Dr. P.V. Mohanram, Secretary, PSGiTech stressed the importance of incorporating a higher-order thinking process in students by encouraging the use of a greater number of "why" type questions. Additionally, he provided guidance on how faculty members can prepare for the upcoming microteaching process at PSG iTech. Faculty members expressed their gratitude, stating that the session proved highly beneficial in readiness for the microteaching process.
