Under the motto of “NOT ME BUT YOU”, the NSS volunteers of PSG Institute of Technology and Applied Research conducted a seven day Special Camp at Kurumbapalayam village in order to serve the people of the Kurumbapalayam village from 05-04-2024 to 11-04-2024 under the guidance of NSS Programme Officers, Dr. P.Chinnaraj, Asst. Professor (Sr.G), Dr. D.Thangaraju, Asst. Professor, Dept. of Physics, Ms. Santhiya Asst. Professor , 90 active volunteers participated in this Special Camp with great enthusiasm and worked diligently. Our volunteers stayed in the Shri Yogeshwari Valibadu Mandapam and carried out the services. The theme for the Special camp was “Youth for Clean India”. The NSS camp began with a focus on positivity, as volunteers divided into seven teams and engaged in various tasks.. The day continued with outreach efforts in the nearby village, including informing school students about the camp and conducting management games to foster teamwork. Later, an interactive session with alumni and a thought-provoking debate on generational respect added depth to the day's activities. The evening saw vibrant cultural performances by all teams, spreading joy and laughter. The subsequent days were filled with similar vigor, including morning yoga sessions, fieldwork, community outreach, and educational lectures, culminating in a final day of rallies, valedictory functions presided over by distinguished guests, and a feedback session for continuous improvement, marking the end of a fulfilling and impactful seven-day camp. Throughout, the emphasis remained on holistic development, community engagement, and gratitude to the organizers for the enriching experience.
